| City and University | Wellington: Located on the North Island New Zealand's capital city, is a thriving and energetic city brimming with cafes, and museums. With beautiful natural surroundings, where you can experience New Zealand's most famous activities, surfing and hiking.
Massey University Wellington campus: In the arts and cultural district of Wellington and home to the College of Creative Arts, the internationally recognized School of Design, and the School of Music and Creative Media Production. | Auckland: Located on the North Island. It's the nation's largest city built on the sloping hills of extinct volcanoes, Auckland holds unlimited access to adventure.
University of Auckland: The largest university in New Zealand extending over eight city blocks. NZ's flagship research institute, U of A has over 50 research centers. | Hamilton: Located on the North Island in a central location perfect for enjoying and exploring the best that New Zealand has to offer.
University of Waikato: Choose classes from a range of disciplines. Style of education allowing you to focus on your major. The indigenous Polynesian people of New Zealand, the Māori, are fully integrated at Waikato with a complete calendar of cultural events and the Faculty of Māori and Indigenous Studies. | Wellington: Located on the North Island New Zealand's capital city, is a thriving and energetic city brimming with cafes, and museums. With beautiful natural surroundings, where you can experience New Zealand's most famous activities, surfing and hiking.
Victoria University of Wellington: Located in Kelburn, a residential area of Wellington one mile from the city center. Strong coursework in English, New Zealand literature, Māori, Pacific, and Asian studies, linguistics, environmental & ecological sciences, theater, and film. | Dunedin: Located on the South Island. Historical coastal city offers easy access to beaches, hiking, and extraordinary wildlife. With its eclectic history, Dunedin is a unique city among the most touristed locations in the country.
University of Otago: New Zealand's first university. The campus lifestyle at Otago has been consistently ranked well among students. With ocean on one side and mountains on the other it may feel a bit like UCSB. | Christchurch: Located on the east coast of the South Island.
University of Canterbury: Strengths in STEM, especially computer science and civil engineering (note that our other South Island partner, Otago, does not offer engineering) and business. |
