Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK): Established in 1963 as a comprehensive university with a distinctly Chinese character and curriculum, CUHK is committed to bilingualism, biculturalism, and the importance of providing an international study experience. One of Asia's top research-intensive universities, CUHK is located 45 minutes from downtown Hong Kong in Shatin in the New Territories. The multicultural campus is a peaceful refuge from the bustling city and serves as a home base in which you can study and from which you can explore Asia. CUHK is recommended for students interested in learning Chinese (Mandarin and/or Cantonese).

Hong Kong University of Science & Technology (HKUST): With its ultramodern, futuristic-looking campus overlooking Clear Water Bay, HKUST's mission is to advance knowledge in science, technology, engineering, business, and management, and to assist the economic and social development of Hong Kong. HKUST is a highly competitive university in which UCEAP students obtain very strong academics. The scenic campus is about 30 minutes from downtown Hong Kong.

University of Hong Kong (HKU): The oldest institution of higher education in Hong Kong, HKU offers coursework in a wide range of disciplines and departments in English. Its attractive, compact campus is located on the slopes of Hong Kong Island facing Victoria Harbor and only a bus ride away from Hong Kong's bustling financial district.
