National University of Singapore (NUS) is an innovative global university with modern facilities and top-ranked academic programs. NUS is a leading center for Southeast Asian studies and is distinguished in engineering, business, and the biological sciences. NUS is equally strong in systems science, information technology, social sciences, and humanities. Located at the tip of the Malaysian Peninsula on the Indian Ocean, NUS offers strengths in the marine sciences as well. Its main Kent Ridge campus is situated on a spacious area about 20 minutes from the city center, easily accessible by public transportation. A circle of science and technology research parks border the campus and collaborate with NUS in promoting research, education, and enterprise.

Singapore University of Technology and Design (SUTD)'s mission is to advance knowledge and nurture technically-grounded leaders and innovators to serve societal needs, with a focus on Design, through an integrated multi-disciplinary curriculum and multi-disciplinary research.

CIEE was founded in 1947 as a nonprofit, non-governmental organization with the mission "to help people gain the understanding, acquire knowledge, and develop skills for living in a globally interdependent and culturally diverse world."
